AMERICAN SIGN LANGUAGE CORNER - Tips for Communicating with the Deaf (Cleveland Hearing & Speech Blog): ● Use a normal speaking pattern. Over-enunciating makes it hard for a deaf person to read your lips. ● Write it down if necessary. Some people are better at reading lips than others. ● Look directly at the person you are communicating with. If you look away, a deaf person may miss what you are saying. Thank you for taking the time to understand the Deaf

Thank You

Dear First Church, thank you for the prayers, calls, texts, and cards I received after the passing of my father. Your kindness, support, and thoughtfulness during this difficult time have meant so much to me and my family, and we are truly grateful.

With sincere appreciation, Susan Lightford

“There is a way of selfless serving that has a special greatness. Though overlooked by man, it will never be overlooked by God.” Pastor William Lee, Associate Pastors and First Church Family, thank you for every expression of love and concern provided to our family. Your kindness will always be remembered. Thanking Him for you.

Sincerely, the Family of Mother Dalzenia Williams (Vance and Jerrels)

So Grateful – During a time like this, we realize how much our friends and relatives really mean to us. Your expressions of sympathy will always be remembered.

May God bless you, Mr. and Mrs. Edmon Battle

Special Thanks - We are incredibly grateful for the outpouring of support for our Bible Drive. Because of your generosity, we didn't just meet our goal—we surpassed it! Thank you for showing up, giving generously, and being a part of something bigger than all of us.

This is what ministry in action looks like.
